

Redstone PBS works with children's residential services. We provide a Positive Behaviour Support approach for organisations supporting young people who are at risk of presenting with behaviours that challenge. Redstone provides support for individual young people, organisation wide PBS and practice leadership development for key staff.

Consultancy and training to support PBS implementation across your services

Reduce behaviours that challenge

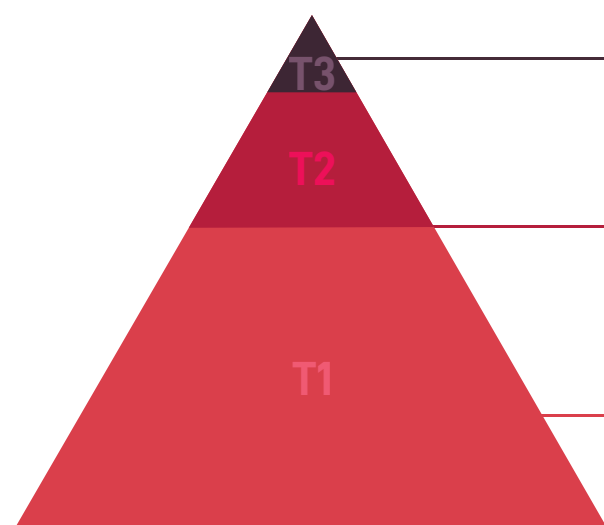

Increase pro-social skills and quality of life

Reduce restrictive practices

The 'Organisation Wide PBS' Model

(Sugai and Horner 2007)

Tier 3

Highly individualised, person centered assessment and intervention

Tier 2

Small group interventions based on key areas for change within a specific service setting

Tier 1

Initiatives for all young people supported across the organisation such as pro-social and functional skills development programmes
